It is reported that Col. John T. McGraw is going to set aside a number of acres of ground in Marlinton for a baseball and football park. If the report be true, and we have every reason to believe it is, as it comes from good authority, it will be a matter of pride to the local athletes to fence the grounds and otherwise improve them.

The fish supper to be given next Monday night in the Sutton building for the benefit of the M. E. Church, South, promise something new in the way of church suppers. This will not be a skimpy affair presided over by a lot of the elderly ladies of the church where one gets a gob of wind and two fried oysters for a half a dollar. Pat Simmons and Paris Yeager caught a nice bunch of tront up Stony creek Mouday. Several suckers have been caught at the mouth of Knapps creek. The baseball ground given by Jno. T. McGraw for the benefit of the Marlinton base ball team has been cleaned up and is now being used. Tuesday a match game was played on this ground and another game is set for tomorrow. The home team is making preparations to better equip itself and we may look forward to some good games here this summer. Last year our team was good, but this year it is better, several new players having come to town, among whom is a good pitcher. Shires as a batter, Livesay and Walters as all-round players are valuable additions to the team.

VICTORY FOR MARLINTON.

First Game of the Season Won on Marliston Diamond by Local Team.

Lewisburg received a big goose egg at the hands of the Marlinton baseball team in the first game of the season played on the home grounds last Saturday afternoon, the score standing at the close of the first half of the ninth inning 10 to 0 in favor of Marlinton. It was a great game and all who were present were surprised at the work of the local team. All feel confident that we have a team this year that can make a good showing with the best of them. Lewisburg was the admitted champion team of this section of the state last year and in the game here Saturday they were strengthened by Boone, C Rowe and H. Rowe, of the Alderson team. A game of baseball is being arranged between the Marlinton and Alderson teams to take place on the grounds here between the first and tenth of June. As Alderson has a very strong team and Marlinton's team is considered no slouch this season a good game may be expected.

All persons wishing to take part in the tournament here on July 4th should confer with J. L. Wallace, chairman of the Tourna

The land lies along the Buckhannon river and we understand it is a fine body of timber. Work will begin as soon as looking up the records is completed.

Dr. Clyde Y. Beard, practicing physician at Dunlevie, we learn from the Weston Independent, has purchased the practice of Dr. Kennedy near Weston. Dr. Kennedy will be ready to vacate on the 15th. Dr. Beard has been practicing for the past two years at Dunlevie and has bright prospects before him. His neighbors will be sorry to hear that he is to remove from among them.

The Marlinton baseball team will cross bats with a team from camp Greenbrier tomorrow afternoon. This camp is located on the old fair ground, a mile above Alderson, and the team is one of the best in the Greenbrier valley. The players are selected from a number of young men from Baltimore, Washington, Staunton and other points who have been spending their summers at this camp for the past several years. A good game may be expected.

An informal banquet was tendered the members of the Marlinton Fire Department last Saturday night at the temporary court house by the members of Hose Co. No. 2, who won the hose race and the $50 prize July 4th. Refreshments were served and a friendly time

Three games of amateur baseball were witnessed this week here and at Campbelltown. The Marlinton second team defeated the second team from Campbelltown in two games. Withrow McClintic reports a wild animal breaking up a setting turkey hen at his place near Buckeye a few nights ago and destroying thirteen eggs. The next night he put two eggs out containig poison but the animal did not put in its appearance. The two eggs containing poison were taken up and destroyed. The next night the animal again made his appearance and destroyed a brood of several young turkeys and the next night returned and carried away the hen. The following morning the turkey hen was found dead some distance from the house and by its side a coon also dead. The cause of the coon's death is a mystery, but death is supposed to have resulted from becoming overheated in dragging the hen up a hill near where it was found. The coon had had only three legs, the other having been cut off some time ago and was completely healed over.

Greenbrier Speckled Trout.

The speckled trout of Greenbrier and Pocahontas counties are of the firmest texture and supply the most delicious eating in the world, says the West Virginia News The black bass are an extra fine game fish, affording rare sport to fishermen and an attractive and enjoyable course on any bill of fare, but they are second to trout. Many fish become tainted in an hour or two after death, owing to their loose texture, but trout are exceptional in this respect. As an illustration, W. H. Cackley relates that some years ago when he was sheriff of Pocahontas county, his deputy, Dick Hill, caught some extra nice trout in Elk and wishing to get them to Dunmore he cleaned them, wiped them dry, wrapped them in paper, put them in his saddle-pockets, and rode 16 miles on a hot August day, arriving some twelve hours from the time of starting, when the fish were found to be as firm and fresh as when taken from the water. It is quite certain that any other variety would have been rotten. The cold mountain streams and the extraordinary activity of trout combine to produce a close fibre which resists decay to a remarkable degree.

A new method of bass fishing was discovered this week by one o our local fisherman. While fishing along Knapps creek he discovered an ingenious youth with a fig string of bass which he had caught at the reunion grounds. This young disciple of Isaak Walto would get in a pool where there were a number of bass and scare the fish under shelving rocks. Then with a four foot line baited with a crawfish he would go up close to the rock and drop his bait by the side of the rock under which the bass had taken refuge. The crawfish would crawl up under the rock and the bass would readily take it. A good hard pull and the fish was landed. This is rather an unsportsman-like method but it will get fish for the pot every time. The youth had twenty-one on his string ranging from ten to fourteen inches.

All who can possibly find a few leisure hours are hieing themselves to the river these days to see what luck they can have as fishermen. Persons who hardly know the difference between a bass and a sucker have caught the fever on learning of an extraordinary catch now and then by local sportsmen. The Camp Greenbrier baseball team came here last Friday evening for three games of ball. Owing to the train being late only two innings were played Friday evening.
